

DINE LOCAL – DINE HEMET

On Tuesday, July 29, 2014, the City of Hemet, Hemet San Jacinto Valley Chamber of Commerce and the Valley Queens launched the new Dine Local—Dine Hemet Campaign to support local restaurants. The program was kicked off at Datillo's Ristorante with owner Joseph Dattilo, located at 2288 E. Florida Avenue, Hemet.

City of Hemet and the Hemet San Jacinto Valley Chamber of Commerce encourages you to dine out as often as possible and DINE LOCAL! Assisting with the new campaign, are the Valley Queens, who will continue to visit and present certificates of participation to local restaurants.

Restaurants, cafes, diners, bars, pubs, fast-casual or quick-serve businesses comprise a vital and valuable sector of our local and regional economy. By providing local employment, business to business trade, and a pleasant local experience, our local restaurants and food & beverage businesses are important to our community, our City and our economy. Please DINE LOCAL as often as you can and support Hemet businesses and families.

Pictured from left to right, Miss Teen Hemet -Bobbie Rivers, Joseph Dattilo and Miss Hemet-Kayla Contreras

Pictured from left to right, John Jansons-City of Hemet, Miss Teen Hemet -Bobbie Rivers, Miss Hemet-Kayla Contreras and Andy Anderson-Hemet San Jacinto Valley Chamber of Commerce